I would like to submit my dearest condolences to Stephanie's family. I am a good friend of her and she was an amazing soul . Through all she overcame all she went through her heart always shined . She had a smile that would bring the sun out and a laugh that made all of us smile . She had a lust for life and loved her children dearly . Being her friend I witnessed her overcome obstacles step by step and it was amazing to see such a strong loving person push through life's obstacles and smile bigger and bigger . Stephanie taught us how to love live laugh and overcome all at the same time . She is still with us her essence her soul is always over us . She was always a angel but now she has risen up and truly is a angel watching over us and smiling . Love you Steff ♥☐

I went to go check out my beasties pics and quotes.. to find out she's gone.. that its been a couple months. She had a big heart. And big dreams but her biggest goal was to see her son kaden again ... .. I am beyond heart broken. And truly hope she's resting now.. but for all my nephews and My niece, dad nan just know I have always been here for you all even from a distance and hope that one day we meet or meet again... I just moved to Saskatoon in hopes to be a lot closer to her... .. I pray everyone is doing well through all this.. Nan, her brother, and her dad may she be resting with her mom and papa...if there is anything I could say just know she tried to always be the best she could be with the pain she's suffered.. I loved her so much she was a beautiful woman
