He dedicated many years to teaching and mentoring others as a Welding Instructor, and later as Program Head. He took pride in his work and in the many students he taught, sharing not only his knowledge and skills, but also his experience and passion for the trade.

An avid athlete throughout his life, Gary enjoyed playing hockey, baseball, and golf. He loved the competition, camaraderie, and friendships that came with being part of a team, as well as the enjoyment of being out on the golf course. Sports brought Gary many years of happiness and countless memories. Gary also enjoyed playing cards at the Legion and traveling to Mexico during the winter months with his wife Joan and developing many lifelong friendships over the years.

Though he is no longer with us, his kindness, his love of family, his passion for sports, and the knowledge and friendships he shared throughout his life will never be forgotten. A special thank you to the Palliative Care Team of Moose Jaw who cared for Gary over the last year, as well as Moose Jaw Funeral Home for the care and compassion during this difficult time.
