I first met Les when I was a teenager and he was sharpening discs in the 70's. He won everyone's heart with his sense of humour every place he went. Strangely enough, I would meet him again 30 years later when I started working for Moose Jaw Transit.

People still shared their memories of him years after he retired. They didn't all remember his name but they remembered the duck!

On behalf of myself and all of Transit , past and present – we are sorry for your loss.
