My wife and I as JW what to offer to our sincere condolence to the family who losted there dear one in death. The Bible mentions death is men's worst enemy in 1Corinthains 15: 26. Also, apostle Paul asures us a hope that we could see our love ones alive again, in 1Corinthians 15: 21- 23. We hope these words will bring comfort to all in the family? Jim & Olga

Elaine, I am very saddened to hear of Bill's passing. I enjoyed seeing him regularly, and always looked forward to his stories of the gun club, skiing with the kids when they were growing up and the various antics he had been up to. He was such a nice man. You are in my thoughts and prayers.

Sorry to hear of Bills passing. I worked with Bill at the CPR, I don't think I ever seen him out of sorts. Last time we spoke was when he was in providence place, he saved the paper for my mom when he was done with it. He was such a nice fellow. I am sure he will be greatly missed by all who knew him.
