Dearest Cousin Frances, ringlets and fancy dresses, the few years that separated us seemed huge, always the little kid. You could pout with the best of them but a double-decker chocolate cone was all it took and soon the giggles returned. You were so committed to your job and the folks at Extendicare that, after you retired, you spent many hours volunteering, just to keep an eye on their entertainment and bingo afternoons. It was great, when you moved to West Park Crossing, that you were able to renew your enthusiasm for meeting new people and Bingo. Your presence, in our magical group of special cousins, will be missed. Bless your soul!
